CALIFORNIA'S MARYLYN CHIANG AND TERI McKEEVER NAMED PAC-10 WOMEN'S SWIMMER AND COACH OF THE YEAR

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. -- CALIFORNIA'S Marylyn Chiang and Teri McKeever have been named the 1998-99 Pacific-10 Conference Women's Swimmer and Coach of the Year, Commissioner Tom Hansen announced today.

Chiang, a 5-7 senior from The Pas, Manitoba, Canada, set a new NCAA, meet and U.S. Open record in winning the 100 yard backstroke (52.36) at the 1999 NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships in Athens, Ga. Chiang also experienced a great deal of success at the 1999 Pac-10 Swimming and Diving Championships, winning individual titles in the 100 backstroke and the 200 individual medley. She also swam the anchor leg on the Bears' Pac-10 Champion 200 freestyle relay. The Women's Swimmer of the Year honor is the first for Chiang.

McKeever, who just completed her seventh season at California, led the Golden Bears to fifth place finish at the NCAA Championships and a third place showing at the Conference Championships. Under McKeever, Marylyn Chiang set an NCAA, meet and U.S. Open record in winning the 100 backstroke at the NCAA Championships. Her swimmers also won three individual and one relay title at the Pac-10 Championships. The Women's Coach of the Year honor is the first for McKeever.

The Swimmer and Coach of the Year awards are determined by a vote of the coaches.

ARIZONA'S LINDSAY BERRYMAN, STANFORD'S KIM POWERS NAMED 1998-99 PAC-10 WOMEN'S CO-DIVERS OF THE YEAR

STANFORD'S RICK SCHAVONE NAMED 1998-99 PAC-10 COACH OF THE YEAR

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. -- ARIZONA's Lindsay Berryman and STANFORD'S Kim Powers have been named 1998-99 Pacific-10 Conference Co-Divers of the Year, while STANFORD'S Rick Schavone has been named Coach of the Year, Commissioner Tom Hansen announced today.

It is the first time in Pacific-10 Conference history that there have been co-divers of the year.

Berryman, a sophomore from Phoenix, Ariz., finished third in the platform event at the Pac-10 Championships in Federal Way, Wash. Berryman also finished fourth in the one-meter and fifth in the three-meter events. She earned All-American honors at the 1999 NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships in Athens, GA, following a fifth place finish in the one-meter and an eighth place showing in the platform.

Powers, a sophomore from Crestview Heights, Ky., won the Three-meter diving event at the Pac-10 Championships, and finished second in the platform. Powers earned All-American status at the NCAA Championships following sixth place finishes in both the three-meter and the platform events.

In his 20th year at Stanford, Schavone helped lead the Cardinal divers to two titles at the Pac-10 Championships, coming with a win by the aforementioned Powers and a win in the platform by Erin Sones. In addition, Stanford divers earned six All-American awards at the 1999 NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships. The Women's Coach of the Year award is the third of Schavone's career.

The Conference Diver and Coach of the Year awards are voted on by the coaches.

COACH OF THE YEAR

USA Swimming honors Frank Busch, Ray Mitchell as the 1998 coaches of the year

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.— Frank Busch, who placed nine swimmers on international teams this summer, was named the 1998 Coach of the Year by USA Swimming. Ray Mitchell was recognized as the Developmental Coach of the Year, having seven swimmers, ages 17-and-under, qualify for the 2000 Olympic Trials.

Both men will be honored by the U.S. Olympic Committee at a dinner in Houston on Sept. 19 and by USA Swimming at its annual convention in Cincinnati on Oct. 2.

Busch, who is from Cincinnati, coaches at the University of Arizona in Tucson and Hillenbrand Aquatics, the 1998 national women's and combined team champions. Mitchell of Concord, Calif., is the head coach of the Terrapins Swim Team, which features rising star Natalie Coughlin.

"When you get an award like this, you feel kind of awkward," said Busch. "You look around and there's a lot of tremendous coaches. No matter how good their team is that year, you can see what great coaching skills they have. You're humbled by it and I think most coaches feel that way when they receive an honor like this, because you don't feel like you're any better than those coaches."

"It's a nice honor," said Mitchell. "It's a credit to our staff and the total organization. It's a result of a total staff effort because most of these kids have come up through our programs. I'm really pleased with the development of some of our 17 and under kids. We have seven who are qualified for the 2000 Olympic Trials who are 17 or under, so we're really excited about that."

FRANK BUSCH

At the 1998 USA Swimming National Championships, Frank Busch coached Hillenbrand Aquatics of Tucson, Ariz., to the combined team and women's team titles. The women's team won its title by a whopping 157 points. The team trophies were the end-of-the-season icing on the cake for Busch, who enjoyed an unparalleled year of accomplishments, beginning in the fall of 1997 when Chad Carvin, a Busch disciple earned the 1997 U.S. Swimmer of the Year.

ABOUT CONVENTION

USA Swimming will elect a new president at the United States Aquatic Sports Convention in Cincinnati, Friday, Oct. 2, and name its Swimmer of the Year and the Phillips Performance Award on Saturday, Oct. 3.

Ten candidates will vie for the 1998 USA Swimming Swimmer of the Year Award, including 1998 world champions, Kurt Grote, Jenny Thompson, the 1993 winner; Lenny Krayzelburg, Lea Maurer, Tom Dolan, the 1994 and 1995 honoree, Kristy Kowal, Bill Pileczuk, and more.

U.S. Swimming's House of Delegates, which includes over 500 swimmers, coaches, officials and volunteers, will select the Swimmer of the Year award winner during the week.

Carol Zaleski, USA Swimming's President from 1986-1990 and again from 1994-1998 completes the final year of her presidency.

This publication is made possible by a generous grant from the Phillips Petroleum Company, proud sponsor of swimming since 1973.

Carvin's plight earned worldwide attention. A virtual lock to make the 1996 Olympic team, Carvin was sidelined with a life-threatening heart condition that kept him out of the Olympic trials. Busch guided Carvin through a remarkable comeback that culminated with the U.S. Swimmer of the Year honors.

Busch, the U.S. men's head coach at the Pan Pacific Championships last August, took that momentum into the collegiate arena, where the Busch-led Wildcats flourished--both men's and women's team finished in the top six in the nation. The women's team was the national champion runner-ups--the highest finish in school history.

Olympian Trina Jackson led the women's squad with a national title in the 1650-yard freestyle. Busch's women also became the first school to sweep all three freestyle relays at the NCAA Championships in 16 years. On the men's side, Busch-pupil, Ryk Neethling, became only the second swimmer in NCAA history to win the 200y, 500y and 1650y freestyles.

Busch wasn't finished with comeback stories. At the 1998 Spring Nationals, another Busch protege, Ashley Tappin, captured the national spotlight. Returning to the sport after shoulder surgery, Tappin won four individual titles and the Comeback Award, becoming the second Busch athlete to earn the coveted award in one year--only 10 women in history have won four titles in one nationals.

Which brings us back to the 1998 USA Swimming Summer Nationals. Busch's teams not only won the combined team title and the women's team title, but nine of Busch's swimmers, including 200m freestyle champion Ugur Taner, earned spots on three 1999 international teams. Three swimmers qualified for the 1999 Pan Pacific Championships, which will be contested in the Olympic venue in Sydney; five for the Pan American Games team and one for the World University Games team.

RAY MITCHELL

The Terrapins Swim Team of Concord, Calif., guided by coach Ray Mitchell, placed five swimmers on USA Swimming's National Junior team in 1998. One of his top pupils, Natalie Coughlin, won two national titles in 1998; the 200m backstroke at both the Spring and Summer National Championships. Coughlin, 15, one of America's top rising stars, is on the National "A" team, which requires a top-eight world ranking; she holds a top 25 world ranking in six different events. She is one of the very few swimmers in history to ever qualify to swim every event in every stroke and distance at the National level.

In May, Coughlin broke two national high school records: Misty Hyman's 100y backstroke and Allison Wagner's 200y individual medley. Coughlin made the 1999 Pan Pacific team that will compete in the Olympic venue in Sydney in two events.

Mitchell has three other swimmers who rank in the Top 25 in the world: Shanna DeMichelle, Laura Davis, and Mike Gausman; all four swimmers are the youngest in the rankings in their respective events.

Mitchell, who has trained over 90 high school All-Americans, coached his team to a National Championship runner-up spot at the 1998 Spring Nationals with a team comprised almost entirely of age group swimmers.

ABOUT THE AWARDS

USA Swimming began honoring a coaches in 1996 as a part of the U.S. Olympic Committee's coach recognition program. Murray Stephens of North Baltimore and Mark Schubert of Trojan earned Coach of the Year honors in 1996 and 1997. Gregg Troy of the Bolles Sharks earning the first Developmental Coach of the Year distinction in 1997.
